NO PROGRESS IN PEACE OVERTURES

Allies and Germans Loth to Initiate Any Movements At Present.

"SIGNS OF WEAKNESS"

Representatives of Warring Nations in Washington, However, Said to be Earnestly at Work.

Washington, Sept 19—Reluctance of both the allies and Germany to initiate peace overtures which might be regarded by their citizens and the world as a sign of weakness is the greatest obstacle of the peace movement, in the opinion of President Wilson, it was stated on excellent authority today.

Patriotism, pride and fear that any sign of considering peace would be construed as evidence of military defeat are holding back all of the warring powers from broaching considerations of peace, the President believes. He feels he cannot make further moves, except most carefully and informally, until some or one of the belligerents show evidence of a more conciliatory attitude.

It was learned today that diplomatic representatives here of the warring nations are taking steps, independent of the President, which may bring about peace discussions. Ambassadors of the nations involved are reporting to their foreign offices the results of interchanges between Washington and Berlin. Sir Edward Grey's note received last night by Ambassador Spring-Rice, stating that England has nothing to say on peace because no offers have come from her foes, was in response to such an inquiry.

Ambassador Jusserand of France it is understood, has also reported to his superiors the German chancellor's reply to the President's informal inquiry regarding peace prospects through Ambassador Gerrard.

This independent, and, as far as this Government is concerned, entirely unofficial action, the Administration believes may result in guarded inquiries and discussions from foreign offices abroad which may break the ice of peace negotiations.

The President is disinclined to force matters, feeling that too much insistence might imperil the force of his mediation proffers.

DIVORCED MINISTER ELOPES.

Rev. N. C. Lasister Said to Have Gone to Baltimore.

Baltimore, Sept. 19—A dispatch last night from Wilmington, Del., stated that the Rev. Norfleet C. Lassiter, former pastor of the Delaware Avenue Baptist Church of Wilmington, eloped to Baltimore last Sunday with Miss Vera Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Collins, of Wilmington but formerly of this city.

When last heard from the couple were at the Victoria Hotel, Norfolk, Va., and were about to leave for Raleigh N. C. the home of the groom's parents. The pastor resigned from his church in June, 1913, and recently secured a divorce from his first wife.

The bride is 18 years old, and during Lassiter's pastorate at Wilmington sang and played a cornet in his church. Last Sunday night while the parents of the girl were at church the couple decided to elope and were taken to the station in a taxicab. The bride left a note for her parents in which she said that "Mr. L. now has his divorce and as he wants me I am going with him." Lassiter has recently been employed as floorwalker in a large department store in Philadelphia.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Four men were playing billards in a pool room at 1614 Columbia avenue, Philadelphia, yesterday, when, with a rending crash overhead, a young woman shot through a skylight and fell in the middle of the pool table. She was Florence Fleming, 28 years old, employed by Joseph Bauerigard, proprietor of the pool room, who stepped on the skylight while hanging clothes on the roof. She was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where it was found that she had sustained a broken thigh and general contusions. Her condition was said to be serious.

Search was being made last night for the train wreckers believed to have caused the death of 10 persons and the inquiry of 30 others by derailing Queen and Crescent train No. 2 and 3 a. m. yesterday near Livingston, Ala. William Jones, of Birmingham, Ala., engineer of the wrecked train, who lost his life, is said to have been given the "clear" signal at the last automatic switch post before the Klondyke switch, where the wreck occurred. It is claimed that some one tampered with the switch in the brief interval after the train passed the block and before it struck the switch.

Members of the Roman Catholic clergy yesterday appealed to the President and to the State Department on behalf of about 400 Catholic priests and nuns who have taken refuge in Vera Cruz. The refugees are greatly alarmed for their own safety, if they remain in Vera Cruz after the evacuation of that port by the United States forces.

A dispatch from Vienna to Berlin states that an unsuccessful attempt was made today to assassinate Count Robrinski, Russian military military governor of Galicia. His assailant was an Ukranian. He fired three shots, one of which struck the count in the shoulder before he could be disarmed.

The Black Diamond collier Lingan rammed and sunk the government steamer Montmagny early yeysterday in a fog at Beaujeu Banks, a mile below Crane Island, in the St. Lawrence, and twenty-six miles from Quebec. Within three minutes after being struck, the steamer lay at the bottom of the river. Fourteen persons, members of the Montmagny's crew, and of families of two lighthouse keepers aboard, lost their lives.

King George has signed the home rule bill. Parliament was prorogued until October 27. While it is now a law, the home rule measure will not go into effect for a year, as the king has also given royal assent to the bill suspending the operation of the home rule bill until the end of the war.

The Prince of Wales was very anxious to go to the front, according to a statement isued in London yesterday and tried to get Lord Kitchener's consent to do so. But as he had not completed his military training, Lord Kitchener submitted to the King "that for the present it is undesirable that His Royal Highness should proceed on active ervice."

CAPTURES GERMAN STEAMER.

British Cruiser Stops And Searches Dutch Ship

New York, Sept. 19.—Sir Walter Coutney Bennett, British consul in this city, announces that a French cruiser has captured the Hamburg American steamer Heina and had conveyed the ship to the island of Martinque, a French base in the West Indies. The Heina left Philadelphia on August 7, bound for La Guaria, South America. No details of her capture could be learned.

New York, Sept. 19.—For the first time since the European war began, a ship entering New York Harbor was held up and searched yesterday when the Royal Dutch liner Commewyne, from Cartagena, Colombia, was stopped by the British cruiser Lancaster off Sandy Hook.

Twenty-five Germans on board were taken off and six others who showed first United States naturalization papers were unmolested.

The Lancaster apologized to Capt. Haasnott, of the Dutch ship, and told him the prisoners would be taken to Halifax.

NIGHT ATTACK IS FRUSTRATED

MANY WERE KILLED.

Paris, Sept. 19—Another night attempt by the Germans to break through the allied left wing was frustrated. It was, however, marked with fierce fighting in which many were killed and wounded, according to the reports reaching General Gallieni today.

The fighting on the left, where the combined armies of Generals Von Kluck and Von Buelow are massed, increases in intensity, but the allied lines are slowly being pushed forward. The Germans retire to new positions, constructed in the rear of their original ones, as the pressure increases. But at no point have they actually been defeated.

Along the rest of the line the great battle continues as an artillery duel. There has been practically no fighting by the infantry for thirty six hours, both sides realizing the futility of sacrificing men while the intrenched positions remain intact, and every effort is being made to demolish the German batteries.

The French artillery fire is increasing in intensity. It was kept up all night and there are indications of a coming charge from the German side.

The German assaults of the last five days have been tremendous. At a dozen points on the center they have tried again and again to take the offensive.

Division after division has been hurled forward en masse, only to be shattered by the allies' shellfire and forced to give ground. And every time the German lines have shown signs of wavering the allies have been thrown against them with the bayonet.

As a result, at a number of points, ground has been gained as the German soldiers do not relish the bayonet fighting.

Additional re-enforcements have been sent forward to the left.

The general situation, as described in the first official statement posted today, is satisfactory, but practically unchanged.

MOST OF LOUVAIN STANDING.

Berlin, Sept. 19—The Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung published official dispatches from the German administration of Louvain stating that, though from a fifth to a sixth part of the city is in ruin most of the public buildings have been preserved, including the beautiful City Hall, regarding which there has been so much discussion.

The dispatches say that the damage to St. Peter's Cathedral was such that the building can be restored easily, and the art works were protected by German soldiers. The German officers did everything possible to check the fire.

Many of the residents are returning and some of the shops have been reopened. Trains are being operated on the railway between Louvain and Brussels. The courts of justice have resumed their sessions at Louvain.

RECALL OF MAYOR SOUGHT.

Executive of Laurel, Del., Accused of Abuse of Power.

Laurel, Del., Sept. 19.—Mayor William E. Valiant, of Laurel, may be recalled. Because of his alleged indiscretions and abuse of power, a number of citizens, headed by Colonel Sirman D. Marvil, had five petitions drawn up yesterday asking for his removal. They were presented to the Council today.

The recall will be attempted by procuring the signatures of a majority of the town's voters. Then, should the Mayor refuse to resign, a test case will be made, it is said.

It is the first case of the kind ever instituted in Delaware.

GERMANS CLAIM THEY ARE GAINING

Deny Reports That They Are Running Out of Ammunition.

OTHER HEAVY FIGHTS.

Berlin Dispatches Say Austrian Lines Are Being Well Maintained—Report Russian Repulses.

Berlin, via The Hague), Sept. 19.—The offical statement from the war office today declared that the battle in France is still progressing, with the German forces slowly breaking down the French defense. It is explained that the German lines have been extended at certain points and now include the original French lines. The battle, however, is expected to last for several days because of the long line and the number of men engaged.

Reports that the Germans had run out of ammunition for their field guns are indignantly denied. Instead, the lines of communication are perfect. Trains are run directly to the central points of the battle line from which places the distribution continues with the automobile transport service, which is complete.

The French have several times attempted to carry the German positions by storm, but they have met disaster from the German artillery and rapid firers. The greatest German gains have been along the center.

The general staff announces that the army of the east is now advancing against the fortress of Obsourec, thirty miles to the southwest of Lyck, which guards the Bober river. It is expected this position will be taken by assault. As until it is in the hands of the Germans, the general offensive movement cannot be continued.

The Austrian lines, which run from the Vistula river positions to Drohabyez, by way of Jaroslav and Przemysl, are being well maintained. The Russian attack on the Przemysl fortifications has been repulsed, and all of the five main forts are intact.

KILLED BY FATHER'S AUTO.

Farmer Taking Three Other Children to School, Backs Machine Upon Fourth.

Philadephia, Sept. 19—A distressing accident on her father's farm yesterday cost the life of Eleanor, baby daughter of George L. Holmes, living near Moorestown, N. J. Injured under the wheels of her father's automobile, in which her three older sisters were seated, the child was hurried to the Hahnemann Hospital, in this city, where an operation failed to save her life.

Mr. Holmes has been in the habit of taking his older children, Sarah, Helen and Margaret, to school each morning, in his automobile. On Thursday morning the little girls as usual, took their seats in the auto as it stood in the garage. Little 17-months-old Eleanor had toddled out toward the garage and stood directly in front of it, eager apparently to bid good-bye to her father and sisters as they started for the school-house, about two miles away. Mr. Holmes, who thought his youngest child safe in the house, began to back his machine out, ignorant of the little one's perilous position. The car struck her and rendered her unconscious.

It was found the child's skull had been fractured.

JERUSALEM REDIVIVANT.

Very shortly the sacred streets of the Holy City will hum with the noise of the electric tram cars and its more important thoroughfares will be illuminated at night with the electric light. Its old picturesque walls and massive towers are to be pulled down and the city is to have an adequate water supply.

The rapidity with which Jerusalem is extending, through the return of the Jews in such large numbers to the city of their forefathers, has rendered these improvements necessary. Indeed, to the north and west of the old city there have sprung up within the last decade large Jewish colonies, populous residential sections, as well as convents, hospices, institutions, schools and other buildings, with the result that today there is greater Jerusalem without the walls than within.

Four separate tramways routes are to be laid down. They will all start from the Jaffa Gate, the principal entrance into the city, and run outside the city walls through the newer parts of Jerusalem. The first, which will have a length of about two miles, will give easy access to what may be termed the business quarter of the Holy City, while the second, of similar length will link up the large Jewish colonies to the north with the city's principal entrance. The third will encircle the old city, embracing many of its most historic sites, such as Gordon's Calvary, believed by many scholars to have been the scene of the Crucifixion; the Tomb of the Kings, the Mount of Olives, and the Valley of Jehoshaphat.

The fourth line will run from the Jaffa Gate to Bethlehem, some six miles distant, traversing what is perhaps the most sacred thoroughfare in the world. It teems with reputed holy places—sacred wells, tombs and convents. The work of laying the rails is to begin next April, and, according to the terms of the concession, the syndicate has power to extend the lines in any direction for a distance of some twenty-five miles.

The city walls, which have a circumference of about three miles and raise in places to a height of 38 1-2 feet, are now being offered by the Government for sale as building material. It is expected, however, that efforts will be made to save isolated sections, more particularly the massive towers. Indeed, influential citizens of Jerusalem have formed a society and are approaching the Government with a view to preserving David's Tower, which they propose to convert into a museum.

Of late years Jerusalem has suffered greatly from the want of fresh water. With the exception of a small quantity brought into the city from the ancient pools of Solomon, near Bethlehem, by means of a pipe, which runs along the old aqueduct, the Holy City is entirely dependent for its water upon the rainfall. Now reservoirs are to be built in the upper part of the valley of the Brook Cherith, where the water will be stored and brought into the city as required. Jerusalem is gradually being westernized.—Canadian Chronicle.

CONDITIONS IN EAST GERMANY

Austrian and Russian Forces Now Occupying New Positions

READY FOR ASSAULT.

Vienna, Sept, 19—Austrian and Russian troops are now occupying new positions for the third great battle of the Galician campaign.

While the Austrians are working with feverish haste to fortify the new Przemysl—Cracow battle front the Russians are rapidly taking up a position on the left wing and have already started a forward movement toward Cracow on the right.

EUROPEAN WAR NOTES

Financial Resources of Switzerland Heavily Taxed.

Berne, Switzerland, via Paris, Sept. 19—Although the extreme measures which were adopted during the first weeks after the war began have been relaxed, Switzerland is still under the pressure of mobilization. This is taxing the financial resources of the government, as it is now spending 1,400,000 francs ($280,000) daily on the army. It is stated that Switzerland intends to ask for an indemnity at the end of the war, owing to the stoppage of manufactures and industries.

Paris, Sept. 19—The newspapers today related the story of an air duel between a French aviator and a German airmen at an unnamed place during a battle. After a long maneuvering the Frenchman succeeded in ascending above the German. Both men used revolver. The German was seriously wounded, and his machine turned over, falling among British troops. He was dead when picked up.

Paris Sept. 19—Several papers report that the kaiser has sent to the King of Italy the following telegram: "Conqueror or conconquered, I shall never forget your treason."

Rome, Sept. 19—The newspaper Tribuna reports that the Russians have 6,000,000 men in the field and that they are holding 4,000,000 more in reserve.

London, Sept. 19—The Paris correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company says: "All accounts received in Paris agree that the famous Prussian guards corps, the elite of the empire and the especial pride of the German Emperor, has been practically blotted out in the battles which have been waged along the Mense, Marne, and Aisne rivers."

NO INDICATIONS OF PEACE.

Russia Aims to Remove Menace of Pan-Germanism.

Ambassador Von Bernstorff, says there can be no peace as long as the allies talk of "crushing Germany." He says that anything that could secure a lasting peace would satisfy German, but he adds that Germany will continue to arm herself to the teeth and fight until the last man is dead if the allies in the event of victory to them arms, attempt to seize so much as a square inch of German territory either European or colonial. The German consul at Amsterdam officially denies the report that the Kaiser has made peace overtures to King Albert, of Belgium.

The London Daily News says that the movement for peace started in the United States has been inspired by Germany. A newspaper of Christiana, Sweden, publishes dispatch from Berlin, said to have been passed by the Kaiser's censors, that the terms on which the fighting powers will cease hostilities will be arranged at a conference soon to be held in Washington.

Prussian militarism, in so far as it is a menace to the French republic, must be crushed. The French say there can be no peace until that is accomplished.

The Czar will enter no negotiations for peace while the Kaiser threatens the peace of Europe. The aim of Russia is to remove forever the menace of Pan-Germanism. Austria will be induced to withdraw from Germany's support by offers of terms, the acceptance of which will not be dishonorable.

Emperor Franz Josef is contemplating peace with Russia, according to Italian informants. Reports have reached Rome that Austria is fortifying the Tyrol against Italy. It is reported further that Austria's internal conditions are such as to make the immediate securance of peace with outside nations imperative.

No peace can be secured while the neutrality of Belgium is violated or her honor threatened. Reparation, too, must be had, the Belgians claim.

WATER SUPPLY OF CITY

Committee on Health of City Council Will Soon Consider Report of Dr Waddell.

As soon as the committee on health recently appointed by President Smith of Common Council and President Field, of the Board of Aldermen, organize, which will be the next few days, the report of Dr. J. A. Waddell, of the State board of health, on the condition of the water supplied by the Alexandria Water Company, will be placed before them for action.

The report of Dr. Waddell follows an extensive investigation made by him of the typhoid fever epidemic in Alexandria which resulted in 50 cases of the disease with seven deaths. He found that the cause of the epidemic was largely due to the water supplied the city, bacteria having been found in the water to such an extent as to make it dangerous to drink. His report was made to the state board of health and a copy was furnished to Dr. E. A. Gorman, city health officer.

Dr. Gorman will present the report to the committee at its first meeting and ask that immediate action be taken to carry out the suggestions as made by Dr. Waddell.

Among Orthodox Jews who celebrate two days, the following day, Tuesday, is also observed. This day opens the Jewish calendar year, which is 5657.

Services will begin in the Jewish Synagogue, on north Washington street, at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night. They will be conducted by Rabbi Richmond, of the Hebrew College at Cincinnati. They will be continued at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

The feast falls upon the first day of the seventh month, or the day of the new moon of that month, and is invested with peculiar significance. And, according to ancient writ, no servile work, no gainful occupation was to be followed. The blowing of the shofar, the trumpet, a chief circumstance of the observance, was to arouse the people to their shortcomings and to their duties in which they may have failed. Hence, on this account, the day is called "the day of Memorial."

The days intervening between New Year's Day and the Day of Atonement are called "The Ten Days of Penitence," during which the opportunity is had to reflect finally on and to repair the wrongs done during the year. If the repentence is sincere forgiveness is gained on the Day of Atonement.

The New Year's Day, in the passing of centuries, has thus come to embody the great religious ideas of divine justice and human responsibility. As the beginning of the Jewish religious year it emphasizes the religious uniqueness of the Jewish people, the servant of God and the priest people of humanity.

I couldn't begin to tell the agony I endured from my back. I didn't find anything that would cure me until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me well in less than a month and during the past two years, I have had no trouble. The endorsement I gave, at the time the cure was made, holds good."

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind shape. Was unable to do any work.

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Literary And Athletic Associations Organize And Elect Officers.

The fourth annual session of the Alexandria High School was inaugurated Monday morning by the largest enrollment of pupils in its history. The election of a new teacher by the City School Board has been necessitated. This will probably be done at the next meeting of the City School Board.

There has been a change in the High School faculty since last session owing to the resignation of Miss Hoffman, English teacher. In her place, Miss Bontz, from the boy's grammar school, was elected.

The addition of a new member to the staff of teachers will of course cause an entire shaking-up of the present schedule of studies. So far the different instructors with their respective subjects are as follows:

Mr. Johnson, prinicpal, 2, 3, and 4. Mathematics and Science.

Mr. Blanton, 2, 3, and 4. Latin and French.

Mr. Prettyman, 2, 3, and 4. English and 1, Latin.

Miss Ficklin, History.

Col. Ficklin, 1, Science and Mathematics.

Miss Bontz, 1, English and Literature.

There are at present three first year classes, besides the other three years, and as soon as a new teacher comes, there will be two second year's

A called meeting of the A. H. S. Literary Society, was held Thursday afternoon for the purpose of electing officers. Those elected were as follows:—President, Ashby Bladen; Vice-President, Albert Bryan; Secretary, Miss Dolly Callahan; Treasurer, Tupper Barrett. The past treasurer read his report for the year 1913-1914, which showed the Society to be in a very prosperous condition, having a total of $110.67 most of which is in bank.

It was decided to hold the first regular meeting of the Society on next Saturday night, for business purposes.

The Boy's Athletic Association met Wednesday afternoon to elect officers for the coming year. They elected: Gus Pohl, president; Con. Mullins, Vice-president; Albert Bryan, Secretary; and Herbert Byrne, Treasurer. They also elected John Wenzel, from the student body and Mr. Prettyman, from the faculty, to serve, together with the officers, on an athletic board of six, which will control the greater amount of athletics at the High School.

Owing to the resignation of the president elected in June, the Girls' Athletic Association, Tuesday elected Cora Pullman to fill this office.

Members of last year's football team met Thursday to elect a captain for this year's eleven. John Wenzel was unanimously re-elected Ashby Bladen, manager, the athletic board. Football practice will be started in earnest next week.

The first new rule to be put into effect at the High School was given out Friday. Pupils on the west side of the building will not be allowed to break ranks until Henry Street is reached, and those on the east side not until they come to Patrick Street. This was done in order to prevent loitering before passing out of the school boundaries.

We wish to state that the fight that the men and women of Virginia are making for State Wide Prohibition has our most sincere sympathy. In many sections of Virginia they have arguments that must appeal to people who have the love of home and country in their hearts. To save the boys and girls of the State from becoming drunkards, to cut out the enormous economic waste resulting from the excessive use of stmulants, and to put an end to there unlawful and improperly conducted saloon are ideals which appeal to all that is good within us.—Alex. TAKE FACTS AND FIGURES WITH YOU

Governor Glenn,of North Carolina, is scheduled to deliver an address in the First Baptist Church tonight, when he will advise the people of Alexandria how to vote next Tuesday. As was the case when certain North Carolinians held an "experience meeting" in Richmond last night, the people of this city will resent having speakers imported to direct them how they shall exercise their privilege as citizens. Alexandrians have been voting lo these many years without feeling the need of enlightenment from missionaries from other states.

Of course, Governor Glenn's speech tonight will abound in assertions of the immeasurably greater prosperity of North Carolina since it became dry. His words will be taken by most of his hearers without the usual grain of salt, and those who prefer to look through his spectacles will go to their homes supposing the Governor has exhausted the subject. Such however, will not be the fact. It can be asserted that as Virginia today is in an infinitely better financial condition than her neighbor. Every available figure indicating the growth of the two states will show that since the introduction of prohibition in North Carolina, Virginia has enjoyed a greater measure of prosprous growth than the former state.

Before any one swallows the Governor's statements, hook, line and sinker, facts and figures should be obtained.

Governor Glenn will doubtless tell his audience that the rate of taxation has not been increased in North Carolina since the state became dry. He will be correct in this, but how about the assessment?

As Governor of the state he surely knows that this has been increased in some cases double what it was before the prohibitionists carried the day.

Governor Glenn would find it difficult to give satisfactory answers to the following were any one in his audience to interrogate him tonight:

John R. Boon, lives in Guilford county, N. C. His address is Box 21, Rural Route No. 1, McLeansville, N. C. He owns a farm. His son is located in Richmond. The latter recently wrote to his father concerning his present taxation.

The elder Boons forwarded his son a statement of the 1907 and 1913 and those of four of his neighbors for the same years. These figures are as follows:

J. H. Fryar.

Total taxes paid (under statewide) in 1913 ..... $57.45

J. R. Boon

Total taxes paid (before Statewide) 1907 ..... 7.63
Total taxes paid (under Statewide) in 1913 ..... 13.46

J. W. Loman.

Total taxes paid (under Statewide) in 1913 ..... 10.56

Widow of John Howerton.

Miss Neal Fossett.

Total taxes paid (under Statewide) in 1913 ..... 6.88

The tax figures above given prove this fact: If North Carolina has been prosperous, it is not because the tax-payers have not paid for it. "The tax-payers have paid for it, and are paying for it every day, in taxes very much heavier than they paid under local option."

In 1915, in Virginia, there will be a reassessment of farm lands and real estate generally, "for purposes of taxation." This is required under the Constitution. The State tax rate may remain 35 cents on the $100, but if the assessment of a farm now assessed at $1,000 is increased to $1,500 (which is entirely possible) the tax-payer will pay exactly 50 per cent. more taxes than he now pays. It would figure out the same thing as if the 35-cents-per-hundred rate were increased to 52½ cents and the assessment allowed to remain at $1,000.

ALWAYS FACING DEATH.

Of the German Uhlans, of whom so much has been heard in the European war, Luigi Barzini, a widely known Italian war correspondent says in the Corrier Della Sera of Rotterdam:

"The swarms of Uhlans which the Germans sent out ahead of their advance are to be found everywhere—on any highway, any path. It is their business to see as much as possible. They show themselves everywhere and they ride until they are fired upon, keeping this up until they have located the enemy. Theirs is the task of riding into death. The entire front of the enemy is established by them and many of them are killed—that is a certainty they face. Now and then, however, one of them manages to escape to bring the information himself, which otherwise is obtained by officers in their rear making observations.

"The fire with which the Uhlans are received permits of a fair estimate of the strength of the enemy, for they know that usually all the soldiers shoot as soon as the cavalry of the enemy shows itself.

At every bush, every heap of earth the Uhlans must say to himself: "Here I will meet an enemy in hiding. He knows that he cannot defend himself against a fire that may open on him from all sides. Everywhere there is danger for the Uhlan—hidden danger. Nevertheless he keeps on riding, calmly and undisturbed, in keeping with German discipline."

The German Uhlan is employed entirely for reconnaissance purposes and what is known as "screen and contact work. In the first of these capacities he endeavors to locate the enemy without running into his fire, doing this usually in groups of from 20 to 30 which move with vanguard, flankers and rear guard.

In "screen work" the Uhlan is used to cover infantry or atillery advances, taking a position on the flank as soon as this has been accomplished.

In contact work, as the task described by Barzini, the Uhlan rides in small bodies until he has drawn the fire of the enemy instead of retreating, as he may do in ordinary reconnaissance work, he endeavors to trace the front of the enemy, riding paralled to it, usually until the last man is shot down. The contact action has, meanwhile, ben closely observed from the German front, and the advance and attack of the infantry is governed by the information gained at the expense of the Uhlan, for whom there is no hope as soon as he is detailed for this duty, but who, from all accounts, does not seem to mind this part of his work.

State-Widers Inflamed By Sting of Defeat

Resort to Campaign of Personal Abuse as Last Dying Words

INFAMOUS METHODS WILL LOSE OUT

Only a few hours intervene before the sovereign voters of the State will be called upon to express their will on the Statewide issue.

This is a crucial point in Virginia's history. Upon the decision of the electorate next Tuesday will depend economic issues of gravest importance. It is truly a time of public danger and every true Virginian should rally to the banner of sanity and conservativeness under which are enrolled the forces that see to avert it.

Months ago a group of men known the length and breadth of the State for their high standing and for their long and honorable record of public service, discerned the approaching danger and organized the Virginia Association for Local Self Government to oppose the enactment of Statewide Prohibition —a law which, they warned the State, violated the fundamental principals of free government and community rights.

The Association grew and attracted to its banner the best and most thoughtful elements of the State's citizenship. Men came into its fold to whom the welfare of the State was a religion. Veterans who defended the State with their right arms came to fight for her again with their ballots. Lawyers, Physicians, farmers, business men, deluged the Association with letters commending the Association's fight against Statewide Prohibition and promising their aid and influence.

This was no agglomeration of enthusiasts inflamed with a lust for reform. It became a mighty organization of solid citizens banded together in a common cause—the defense of the State against the invasion of a foreign-born principal of government—the paternatistic, dictatory, bureaucratic scheme of coercion proposed by Statewide Prohibition.

The organization became a mighty force and swept the State before it. The truth of its teaching penetrated into the farthest confines of the Commonwealth and self-government under Local Option became the battle cry. It is the battle cry of the great majorty of Virginians to-day. It will be the battle cry of a large majority of the voters next Tuesday.

The rapid crystallization of public opinion against the enactment of Statewide Prohibition, and for the retention of the Local Option Law under which Virginia has gone steadily forward for two decades, struck terror in the ranks of the Statewiders and drove the hired invaders and paid agitators of the National Anti-Saloon League, who are conducting their campaign, to commit an infamy which they had not at first dared.

With the Anti-Saloon League, whose national headquarters are at Westerville, Ohio, as the high priest of the infamy, the Statewiders began a systematic campaign of villification in which it denounced in the most scurrilous language it could command the Virginians who opposed their heresy.

In this advertisement is printed the names of a few men who have given their thought and their best efforts, in the campaign now drawing to a close, to Local Option and its perpetuation as a principle of Virginia government. They are representative of thousands of people in Virginia who honestly and sincerely believe that Local Option is preferable to Statewide Prohibition.

But the bigotry of the Statewiders denies Virginians the right to entertain opinions differing from theirs.They have assailed their honesty and openly flouted their sincerity. They have assailed their character and made every effort to take away from them their good names and reputations.

Unable to meet the Local Option forces on a battlefield in which a calm consideration of facts and experience are the deciding factors, the Statewiders, frantic at the spectre of approaching defeat, have taken refuge in a dying attempt to blacken the names of their betters by herding them indiscriminately as enemies of the race, paid agents of the liquor traffic, and allies of the devil and his demon consorts.

This the Statewiders have done with the careful regard for their own skins that characterizes all their acts. No attack has been made personally against the character of the Governor of the State or against the good name of any of the men whose names appear in this advertisement. Such a procedure would have been fraught with dangerous consequences. It was far more convenient and less dangerous to denounce them collectively as traitors to their State, and as men who have bartered their souls and principals for a measure of shekels.

The record of the Local Option forces is clean. No local option man in this campaign has stooped to level a slander against any person holding views differing from his own. The Local Option forces have waged their campaign with facts and arguments as their weapons—AND THEY HAVE WON.

The venom of approaching defeat is a ghastly thing. It is inherent in every statement that goes abroad with the imprint of the Anti-Saloon League. The fight against truth has been abandoned and a campaign of slander and calumny is underway.

THE ISSUE NEXT TUESDAY WILL BE STATEWIDE PROHIBITION AGAINST LOCAL OPTION—NOT STATEWIDE PROHIBITION AGAINST THE SALOONS. THE SALOON IS NOT AN ISSUE. IF STATEWIDE PROHIBITION IS DEFEATED EVERY SELF-GOVERNING COMMUNITY WHOSE MAJORITY DESIRES IT WILL STILL BE ABLE, JUST AS IT IS NOW, TO BAR THE SALOON.

THE DEFEAT OF STATEWIDE PROHIBITION MEANS THE RETENTION OF LOCAL OPTION. LOCAL OPTION MEANS LOCAL PROHIBITION IN EVERY COMMUNITY THAT WANTS LOCAL PROHIBITION, AND LOCAL PROHIBITION IS THE ONLY KIND OF PROHIBITION THAT PROHIBITS.

ARE THESE TRAITOS?

Below are the names of a few thousands of loyal Virginians who have pledged their support of the principles of Local Self Government, and who will vote against Statewide Prohibition next Tuesday.

The Anti-Saloon League says they have sold patriotism for a mess of silver and are characterless betrayers of the State's manhood.

Do you believe these Virginians are traitors?

ARMED ROBBERS IN HOUSE.

Burglars Threaten to Cut off Woman's Ears

Kankakee, Ill., Sept. 19.—Five armed robbers entered the home of Mrs. Nellie Clark early yesterday and escaped with money and jewels valued at more than $50,000. Armed posses in automobiles and bloodhounds are hunting the robbers.

The robbers bound and gagged the housekeeper, Marjorie Miller, but Mrs. Clark, hearing the noise, locked herself in a room on the second floor, but the robbers entered the room, using a skeleton key. As they came in, Mrs. Clark offered them $50, saying, "This is all I have." The robbers took the money and ordered her to open a small iron safe standing in the room. She refused, but when they produced nitroglycerine and a fuse to blow it open, she gave them the combination.

While three robbers were emptying the safe of its contents including diamond rings, lavalliere, bracelets, and pins, the other two forced Mrs. Clark to give them the diamond ear rings she was wearing, threatening to cut off her ears if she did not comply. The earrings are worth $1,000.

TEN ATTACKS BY GERMANS.

A Night of Terror on the Battlefield —Losses Frightful.

London, Sept. 19—The Exchange Telegraph's Paris correspondent, in a dispatch received last night, says:

"'A comprehensive account of the five days' battle on the Aisne River, which he described as the fiercest in the western theater since the beginning of the war, was given by a French officer in Paris today.

"On the morning of the 14th," the officer said, "The Germans called a halt, but by afternoon the battle had become general. All the next day the battle was of a ding-dong nature, the Germans evidently awaiting reinforcements.

"During the night, however, they delivered a furious attack on the extreme left, but the British and French troops gallantly met the onslaught, repulsing the Germans no fewer than ten times with fearful losses.

"The Germans still came on, however, seeking to pierce the French line. There had been nothing of the campaign. The Germans hurled dense masses of troops at us in a supreme endeavor to check our forward progress, but when dawn came we still held the position and even had gained ground slightly.

"The artillery duel was continued throughout the next day. The morning of the 17th again saw desperate fighting. This time we threw the Germans back some 10 kilometers, capturing 600 men and a lot of mitrailleuses."

DENIES A CANARD.

Dr. Stuart McGuire Object of Defamation by a Dry Leader.

Richmond, Sept. 19—The following telegram was received yesterday morning by Ben P. Owen, Jr., secretary for the Virginia Association of Local Self-Government, from Mr. W. H. Aston, a prominent citizen of Meadow View, Washington county, Va.:

Ben P. Owen, Jr., Secretary Virginia Association for Local Self-Government:

Rev. S. B. Vaught, chairman prohibition organization of this county, has stated from platform and to me personally that Dr. Stuart McGuire owned $50,000 of stock in a brewery and that was his reason for activity in this campaign. Stated above information had been told him but did not give me name of his informant. If possible have Dr. McGuire write me fully with permission to use information. W. H. ASTON.

W. H. Aston, Meadow View, Va.:

The statement attributed to Rev. S. H. Vaught that my position on the State-wide prohibition question is due to the fact I own $50,000 of stock in a brewery is untrue. Neither I or any member of my family has or ever had a dollar's interest in the liquor or brewery business.

TORTURE BOY HOST BY FIRE.

Schoolmates Not Invited to Party Give Terrible Revenge on Lad.

Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 19—Claire Welshans, 12-year-old son of Pierce Welshans, was badly burned when held in a fire in a tree stump by a number of boys, incensed because they were not invited to a party given by the boy.

Welshans, a student at Centre school, Vallamont, gave a marshmellow toast at Athletic Park for a party of school companions. During the evening a quantity of the marshmellow were stolen by other school boys who had not been invited to the event. As Welshans was on his way home from the park, unaccompanied, after his guests had departed from the resort, he was attacked by the other crowd of boys, stripped of his clothing and led to a tree stump in the park, where his captors had kindled a fire to toast their stolen marshmellows earlier in the evening.

The boy was forced on the stump in which the fire had been rekindled, and held until he was badly burned. His tormenters then hid his clothing and releasing him ran from the scene.

The lad was found several hours later wandering about the park by his father, who had started a search for him.

fine cloud, you have to break up the stony mass with a hammer lest a chunk fall on somebody's head below. One day when we were shivering in the thickest of ulsters and drinking hot soup with a relish, we could have looked over the edge of the basket and seen the farmers in Iowa having sunstrokes in the hayfields—that is if we had recognized either sunstrokes or farmers, for at that height a man—who is always hiding under his hat—looks like a period on this page.—Augustus Post in American Magazine.

Told of Mrs. Huxley.

In a memoir of Mrs. Huxley the London Times recalls that in the "Life of Huxley" it is told how, before their marriage, Huxley took his wife, who was very ill, to one of the most famous doctors of the day, as if merely a patient he was interested in. Then, as one member of the profession to another, he asked him privately his opinion of the case. "I give her six months to live," said Aesculapius. "Well, six months or not," replied Huxley, "she is going to be my wife." Huxley died in 1895 and his wife in 1914.

Bad For the Old and Helpless Natives In Dutch New Guinea.

Concerning a peculiar custom discovered among the natives of Dutch New Guinea, this interesting description is given by A. F. R. Wollaston in the Geographical Journal: "On top of the first steep ridge we came to the first native dwelling that we had seen in the country. It was a rectangular wooden structure, raised on piles about five feet from the ground. A sloping ladder or two or three poles tied together leads to a narrow platform, behind which is the living room about ten or twelve feet square. In the middle of the floor is a square fireplace, usually lined with sand or small stones. The walls are made of split poles placed closely together, and the roof is made of the leaves of pandanus or of a palm if any happen to grow in the neighborhood. There was a mystery about that first house which we were never able to solve. It was evidently quite newly built, a small clearing had been made about it and a few banana and dracoenas recently planted.

"Outside the house were a number of men, women and children, the men occupied in cooking large quantities of yams and sweet potatoes and great lumps of pig's flesh. We naturally supposed that it was a sort of house warming, as in one sense it turned out to be. The men shook their heads and pointed in a mysterious way toward the house and made the curious sign which they are accustomed to make when they talk of something disagreeable. Then they invited us to enter the house, where we found an old man sitting by the fire. He was diseased and decrepit, but appeared by no means likely to die. He took a keen interest in our appearance and enjoyed the tobacco which we gave him.

"When we returned five days later we found the place utterly deserted and the house a blackened heap of ashes, on the top floor of which were lying the charred remains of human bones. It was impossible for any one to say five days earlier that the old man was going to die—indeed, he must have lived for months or even years. What we may imagine to have happened was this: That as he was unable to get about any longer and find his own food, his relations did not intend to support him and that the preparations we saw were really for his funeral feast, but we were puzzled by their having cremated him in a newly built house."

MADE HIMSELF SAFE.

Young Bessemer Had a Cautious as Well as an Inventive Head.

The most trivial incidents have often originated the fortunes of our richest men. Take, for example, the fortunes made out of Bessemer steel. This genius, young Bessemer, had some idea of making steel out of iron, but a poor, newly married young man has no means of experimenting on a large scale. The story I must tell as I heard it from an intimate friend of Bessemer and is a true tale.

After Bessemer had in his small laboratory experimented with the metals and at last obtained the desired result by blowing air through melted iron he found in the bottom of the crucible a little lump of the famous steel. Now the question was how to make the discovery public. He put the lump of steel into his pocket and made his way to Nasmyth of steam hammer fame. Placing the metal on Nasmyth's desk, he told him that he had made this extraordinary discovery, which would revolutionize the whole metal world.

Then came a little incident which shows what wonderful heads these Scotch financiers possess. What do you think Nasmyth said to his excited inventor?

"Eh, mon, it's vary risky to show your wonderful invention. The world is vary dishonest."

To which the aspiring inventor replied:

"Right, Mr. Nasmyth. I just calculated who I was coming to see, so with my last half crown I registered the invention on my way."—London Strand Magazine.

A Cross Bull.

The late Lord Cross never added greatly to the humor of the nation. On one occasion, however, while he was still in the house of commons he tried to be sarcastic during a speech.

"I think," he said, fixing a certain minister with a ferocious eye, "I think I hear the right honorable gentleman smile."

After that remark, if it were any satisfaction to him, he heard the whole house laugh.—London Globe.

By Other Ways.

"I am sorry to see you going with that disreputable young fellow, my son, even if he has plenty of money and goes everywhere."

"But, father, didn't you tell me to cultivate society?"

"I did, my lad, but not with a rake."—Baltimore American.

Unexpected Criticism.

A school inspector, examining a class in grammar, wrote a sentence on the blackboard and asked if any one noticed anything peculiar in it.

After a short silence a small boy replied, "Yes, sir; the bad writing."—London Telegraph.

Extravagance.

"What! Spend $4 to save a penny! That's the way with you women!"—Paris Pele Mele.
